SEE SOMETHING
The Claremont Colleges' undergraduate and graduate staff, faculty, students and community are in a remarkable position to provide a caring and supportive response to students in distress. Claremont students may feel lonely, isolated, hopeless and overwhelmed while facing academic or life challenges. These feelings can lead to struggling academic performance, poor coping skills, fluctuating emotions and other serious issues. You may be the first person to see something distressing or concerning because you have frequent interactions and contact with them. The Claremont Colleges requests that you act with compassion and kindness in your dealings with such students.

SAY SOMETHING
Sometimes students cannot or will not reach out for help for a variety of reasons. Do something! Your care, compassion and concern may be a pivotal factor in saving a student’s academic career or even their life. The purpose of this guide is to help you identify signs of distress in students and identify appropriate on-campus resources and assistance. Students exhibiting behaviors described in the chart below are likely having similar issues in different settings on campus. Trust your gut and say something if a student leaves you feeling worried, alarmed, threatened or scared.

FERPA Statement
It is important to be mindful of the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) while helping students. FERPA allows communication regarding health and safety emergencies. Please refer to this website for more information: https://www2.ed.gov/policy/gen/guid/fpco/ferpa/index.html

Academic Signs of Distress
- Significant decline in quality of work and grades
- Repeated absences
- Bizarre or concerning content in writing, emails or presentations
- Conversations with students center around personal concerns rather than academics
- Disruptive in class

Physical Signs of Distress
- Changes in physical appearance such as a decline in hygiene or grooming, weight loss/gain or appetite changes
- Fatigue, excessively tired or sleep issues
- Substance abuse
- Disoriented, confused, difficulty concentrating or “in a fog”
- Bizarre/slurred speech or thinking patterns

Psychological Signs of Distress
- Disclosure of significant personal issues such as familial, financial, trauma, suicidal/homicidal ideas, grief
- Excessive tearfulness, panic, irritability, disassociation or numbness
- Verbal attacks or harassment such as taunting, intimidation, badgering or bullying
- Bizarre, magical thinking or student seen excessively laughing or talking to themselves
- Concern expressed by other students, faculty, staff or family

Safety Risk Factors
- Unprovoked anger or hostility
- Direct or vague threats to harm self or others
- Unable to care for themselves
- Academic assignments displaying themes of violence, hopelessness, worthlessness, despair, suicidal thoughts, isolation or provocative statements that could be seen as threatening
- Communicating threats via email, text, phone calls or other means
